

200 WILL SING AT MEMORIAL CONCERT

The War Camp Community Service will arrange the concert, and it will be presented under the direction of Prof. Otto Torney Simon. Relatives of men who died in the war will have special seats. The Polymnia Euterpe and Apollo Choral Societies will give the concert, with George H. Wilson at the piano and Edith B. Athey at the organ.

SINN FEINER HERE TO ACT FOR ERIN

NEW YORK, June 8.—Jerry Boland, Sinn Fein member of Parliament, is in New York with the intention of working in the interests of the Irish republic.

Boland, in an interview, describes himself as a diplomatic representative of the Irish republican government. He declared the British made every effort to prevent him from leaving Ireland, but that he eluded the detectives shadowing him, and escaped to America, without passports, working as fireman on a freighter. Boland, who had credentials as secretary of the Sinn Fein party, said he brought with him the text of Ireland's claims for recognition, to be sent to the peace conference in Paris. It was impossible to have these printed and prepared for presentation in Ireland, he said, because of British interference. So the claims were written on flimsy paper, easily concealed, and brought here.

As representative of Edward De Valera, president of the "Irish republic," Boland declared he would confer with prominent Irish Americans and attempt to secure official recognition of the Irish government by the United States.

With regard to what he termed his escape from Ireland, Boland did not care to reveal many details as the "underground railroad" which placed him safely aboard a ship at sea may be used to facilitate the egress of other Sinn Feiners who want to travel. He indicated that if he told too much about its workings the British would break it up.

For the time being, Boland will remain with friends here. Later he said he would tour the States speaking in the interests of Irish freedom. He also plans to go to Washington.

Speaking of the Senate's action in adopting the resolution favoring a hearing for the Irish before the peace conference, Boland said:

"The action of the Senate will be received with great rejoicing in Ireland. Speaking for De Valera and for Ireland, I wish to thank America for her sympathy. Ireland will never forget."

Boland was elected to parliament at the last elections, when Sinn Fein swept Ireland. He fought in the Easter rebellion, and said he was sentenced to death but reprieved.

SEEK BOY LYNCHERS
OF 11-YEAR-OLD LAD

NEW BRITAIN, Conn., June 8.—The authorities here are reported to have obtained definite clues in solving the lynching of an eleven-year-old boy, Joseph Tontarski, by two of his playmates, with his nine-year-old brother looking on.

According to the fearful and hysterical story told the New Britain police by Walter, his brother Joseph Tontarski, and the brother of the boy who threw the brick, the boys were playing in a yard when they saw a swing for him, when two strange boys came along and demanded Joe give them the rope. On his refusal to do so, they grabbed it from him, and despite his struggles, tied one end of it about his neck.

The other end of the boys threw over the branch of the tree again, then both hauled Joe up into the air and held him there until they became frightened at the sight of his purpled face, when they dropped the rope and ran. The limp body fell to the ground and when Walter ran to his brother's side he was dead.

Another story which has reached the police, but which has not been confirmed, so far as known, is that of a girl who claims to have witnessed the hanging, and says it was accidental. She says the rope was tied about Joe's stomach and slipped to his neck while the others were hauling him into the air.

Little Walter, however, sticks to his original statement, and the police have been unable to get the names of the missing boys.

TAFT ADMITS BORAH'S TRUTH
WHEN HE CALLED HIM DEAD

PHILADELPHIA, June 8.—"Senator Borah is right," said former President Taft today when told of the references the Idaho League of Nations opponent made to him yesterday in the Senate.

"Senator Borah," and the full Taft chuckle came out, "says that the Democrats treat me kindly." Then he laughed. "He says they treat me in the same way that people move aside in a respectful attitude to let the dead pass."

"I agree with Senator Borah in that characterization of the attitude of the Democrats toward me."

"One of my chief interests in the present situation, one that moves me even in my grave, is to prevent other funerals."

And then he laughed the hearty Taft laugh that began with a chuckle and ended with head thrown back and full-faced smile.

at The Manhattan Laundry Your BLANKETS and LACE CURTAINS are thoroughly cleansed with Pure Ivory Soap and Softened Water

Every woman knows the peculiar fiber-like construction of Blankets—particularly the finer grades—makes them durable, but delicate, and they must be cleaned by an unusually careful process if the life of the Blanket is to be extended over a long period of years.

And it's the unusually careful and sanitary way we clean Blankets at the Manhattan Laundry that prompts women to send thousands of Blankets here each season just before they pack them away. Another very important point is that the charge is very reasonable.

All Blankets sent to the Manhattan Laundry get more than a "mere washing." They are thoroughly cleansed in a scientifically prepared solution of PURE IVORY SOAP AND SOFTENED WATER, WITHOUT RUBBING OF ANY SORT.

They are then rinsed in clear softened water, vapor-steamed and dried. Every Blanket comes back to you beautiful, sweet, fluffy, and in the sanitary condition that offers an extraordinary "first-aid" against the ravages of moths.

LACE CURTAINS, being exceedingly delicate, require very careful and painstaking treatment, and that's exactly what they receive here at The Manhattan Laundry. They are washed in a scientifically prepared solution of softened water and THERE IS ABSOLUTELY NO RUBBING WHATEVER. It's an individual hand process that actually sends your Curtains back to you "looking like new."

These features are certainly worth your careful and immediate consideration—decide NOW to Phone North 3954 or 3955 for one of our "Blue Wagons" to call.
